

Affirmations are self-suggestions or positive suggestions that you repeat to yourself to always remind you of your dreams, desires and goals. Affirmations are not goals in themselves, they are rather habit-forming practices, and in fact, compel you to take action - in the right direction - towards your dreams. They help instill a sense of clarity and purpose, making conditions favorable for you to stay focused on your ultimate game.

The true power of affirmations lies in experiencing them. I have found that affirmations work in many unusual ways if you can experience them within yourself through visualization. So, let your creativity and imagination flow as you practice these affirmations daily. The more often you repeat them, the deeper they will get inside you.

Affirmations are a game-changer, trust yourself with them and experience them as you repeat this script loudly or under your breath!

Before you start, take a deep breath - breathe in slowly through your nose and breathe out through your mouth.

The “Opportunist Me” Affirmations

I am an opportunist.

Today is filled with opportunities.

I have more opportunities each day than ever before.

New opportunities present themselves to me daily.

I feel confident that there are always opportunities around me.

I have an eye for finding opportunities.

I seek opportunities in known and unknown sources.

I choose to see opportunities in every situation.

My life is a series of new opportunities.

All experiences are learning opportunities.

I pay attention to all the opportunities around me.

The more I focus, the more opportunities present themselves to me.

I am grateful each and every time I am presented with a new opportunity.

I am filled with energy and excitement at every opportunity.

I make the most of the opportunities presented to me.

When I spot an opportunity, I am able to assess its strength and weakness, and take action instantly.

I believe in myself to take action on all the opportunities.

I choose to be able.

I choose to make opportunities work for me.

I feel comfortable and at peace.

Daily Reflection

1. What opportunities did I have available to me today?
2. Did I act on all of them? What stopped you from not acting on those opportunities?
3. If I acted on the best opportunities available to me today, how would my life change?

About Sanket

Sanket is a Leap Ahead Coach and Introvert Author who works with positive middle age introvert people, both men and women, who believe that they can design their future and want to seek an aspect of their life from a different perspective so that they can experience a different result. Why introverts? Because, he is an introvert too! And, he can help introverts to start saying “Yes” to themselves and their human potential and to the person they know they can be! The people that he works with are the people who want to live their dreams, transcend beyond their limiting fears, indecisiveness and beliefs, and accomplish their goals around finding purpose and living a fulfilling lifestyle. Sanket is passionate about contributing to everyone he encounters, but he chooses to only coach the committed. To try him out and get a feel for his coaching enroll for a complimentary strategy session. Sanket is a contributor to several online communities where he writes about the human side of business, excellence at work, personal transformation, and life reflections. His inner calling is to help people focus and excel in their personal and professional lives and become extraordinary individuals. He strongly believes that every person is born to do great things and he wants to help people discover this greatness within them. His book The Winning You is his contribution to anybody who is on the road to ultimate mastery. As he often quips, “Focus is a skill that can be learned. Without a laser-like focus, all your other skills are futile.” Sanket lives in Mumbai and Pune with his wife, Kavita, and daughter, Aahana. He can be contacted via email at sanket@sanketpai.com.